

Call for Papers

NORTH AMERICAN JOURNAL OF FINANCE AND BANKING RESEARCH
ISSN: 1933-3501 (Online)

The North American Journal of Finance and Banking Research (NAJFBR) - The North American Journal of Finance and Banking Research (NAJFBR) is an annual, peer-reviewed research journal that provides a publication outlet for practical and theoretical issues related to North American finance and banking issues such as developments in the financial markets, depository and non- depository financial institutions, stock valuations and market efficiency, capital budgeting, risk and return; challenges in financial planning, forecasting, challenges in corporate financial evaluations, cash flows, exchange rate problems in international business and foreign investments etc. all against the background of economic developments and regulatory issues.

This journal is interested in country or industry specific issues that relate to finance and banking.

The financial examination of the US ailing airline industry, the financial implications of NAFTA for the US, Mexico or Canada are among researchable topics that will be accommodated by this journal. The NAJFBR attempts to encourage scholars, academicians and professionals to engage more in North American-related research and provide a forum for the exchange of ideas.

The journal is listed in the following Directories:

1. EBSCO and
2. ProQuest Databases

(NAJFBR) is inviting papers for Vol. 10 which is scheduled to be published on December 31, 2022. Last date of Submission is November 30, 2022. However, an early submission will get preference in case of review and publication process.

Send your manuscript to the editor at submissions@globip.com

For more information, visit the official website of the journal <http://najfbr.com/>

Sincerely,

John Stephens Ph.D.,
University of Michigan Flint, USA &
The Chief Editor
The North American Journal of Finance and Banking Research
E-mail: submissions@globip.com